Get Back in the Game

Are you a young person looking for support to find a pathway into education, training, or employment?

Get Back in the Game is a personalised one-on-one support program to find employment and training for young people aged 15 to 21 (for selected service regions).

Through this program you will receive practical support and mentoring from experienced, locally-based service providers who will help you find a pathway for your future.

Whether it's finding employment, education or training, your support will be tailored to your needs.

Build your confidence and skills with the Get Back in the Game program.
